

EVIDENCE REQUIRING AN EXPLANATION

This summarizes some of the information in the chapter titled “Hydroplate Theory: An Overview” (starting on pg. 111)

We see many interesting features on the earth today. We are naturally curious about how they came to be. What happened in the past to shape the planet and create such a wide variety of geological features? Can we find an explanation for them?

